DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Thomas et al.

Thomas et al. discloses a fuel injector comprising a first tubular member 18 containing a hydraulic actuator 22 with a first key way 29, a second tubular member 10 containing a metering nozzle 17 and a second keyway through which an arm 19 is extended (column 2, lines 60-62), a curvilinear member 30 abutting the first and the second tubular members (figures 1 and 2), the resilient curvilinear member 30 with a first end 31 and the second end 31.

3. Claims 7-15, 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ricco (U.S. Patent No. 5,979,411).

Ricco discloses a fuel injector comprising a first tubular portion body 17 with a first circumference groove 42 (figure 4), a second tubular portion body 13 with a second circumference groove 33 (figure 3), a resilient curvilinear member 34.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 16 and 17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The following patents are cited to show the art with respect to a fuel injector with a curvilinear member: Cassidy et al., and Balsdon et al.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed August 27, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
